CURRENT COMMENT.

Saturday afternoon the personal organ of the narrow minded minister Canada ever knew, Frank Oliver, under the management of the man whose name the chronicle of the month to High Heaven in Ontario, Duncan Marshall, assumes the defensive in regard to the land deal grants which government favorites at Ottawa have under Liberal auspices exploited the public domain. The personal organ of the little goodie two shoes who was selected to fill Hon. Clifford Sifton's boots, speaking of the Southern Alberta Land Co. concession, says: "The wisdom of the bargain, the stipulations as to the fulfilment of duties, the price charged, the desirability of the irrigation were of course proper and legitimate subjects for the consideration of parliament, matters of public interest for which the government stood unanswerable." "Secure," says the organ of that erstwhile hero of the A.P.A. "in their legal immunity as members of parliament," etc. The item is another of Duncan's plays to the grandstand and an insinuation of cowardice.

In our opinion the organ of Frank Oliver under the management of Duncan Marshall, of Cheyenne, Ont., of Chatham, Ont., of Brainerd, Ont., of North Redford, Ont., of Ontario, of the P. P. A. in Ontario, of Patrons of Industry here in Alberta, of journalistic ambition rancor in Alberta, we say this paper is the most useful influence in Canada. The public life at the moment from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the North Pole to Lake Erie. Not because it has much influence with Canadians to the manner born, but because it works in union and harmony with the new arrivals, the uneducated and the uncultured in Canadian history. The Bulletin was in better business giving the matter, which it could easily get of those ward heeler for that honest politician, Frank Oliver, once the minister, who have received payment to honest men on which they never lived a week, on which they did not suffer a day, and while their neighbors were deprived of their own little technicalities, because they opposed the peasant politician at the head of the department.

The Hamilton townspike was a worse steel than anything the Conservative pulled off during the Congress. The Southern Alberta Land Co. deal ought to make Jim Lester, of London, turn over in his grave. The Hamilton townspike deal was a grand larceny on the people, equalled only by the giving of the government printing monopoly like the Bulletin. The Bulletin is harping daily on the Tories for practicing it and for deriding them for accusing the Liberals of it. We have no grievance against the Oliver organ, but we wish to say in the interests of the public that we cannot hope that the erstwhile, organizer of the House government, Duncan Marshall can have any patriotic motives or honest intentions. His record is against it, and we have no faith in doubtful repentance so far as he is concerned.

We have placed a paper regularly for some weeks in the local post office addressed John May, blacksmith, Strathcona. He has not received it for three weeks. Last week we followed it down and waited a reasonable time for distribution. Mr. May asked for it and was told that it wasn't there. He has not received it yet. He got out at this office. This is only a repetition of conditions brought to our notice weekly. We have no hesitation in saying that the local post office is run like a kindergarten.

Jim Blain may not have swept the dump out as often as we thought, but we can truthfully say that there has not been any improvement in the service since he left. The office is cleaner and is laid out better, but the distribution of mail has not improved one whit. There is no use having a nice front to the office while those behind are unable to read. What the local office needs is a night school attendance.

not falling to those enterprises and energy in meeting the situation, but the Canadian Grocer's view is devoted to the Eastern manufacturer. "Will he be the first to seize the opportunity offered him by the growing Western market," it asks, "or will he wait until the American has got him in the way. The manufacturer who gets in first will control the trade of the West and grow up with the country." Goods made in the West will be popular in the West and the manufacturer who first commences to supply goods manufactured in the West will meet with a cordial reception from the buying public. The American faith in the future of Western Canada is growing stronger every day, and there is nothing more sure than that if the Canadian manufacturer does not soon grasp his opportunities, American capital will very shortly build large factories in the far West. The West will welcome American capital, but Canadian capital should be the first in the field.

CHRONICLES.

A Calgary gentleman, ninety years old, hopes to live to see the Conservative party returned to power.

Duncan Marshall's organ speaks of the juicy Bostonians sumping in Muskoka. This is rather ungrateful on the part of the man who reached with such astonishing celerity for the subscriptions to the Bridgeville Gazette. Besides they were only pilgrims to the land of lake and hay, not exiles from it.

A certain sign of the press is making a fuss over the fact that an Eastern man took Lieut. Governor Buley for a Frenchman, and remarked that if he had not been one he would not have got the job. The mistake was not in the misnomer of the Lieutenant Governor's racial origin but in believing that none but French men could be found to carry out the Ottawa government's violations of Provincial rights.

Sudden Death of T. A. [Step-]en

Mr. T. A. Stephen, one of Edmonton's best known citizens, died suddenly last night at Cooking Lake. He had gone down to the popular summer resort on Saturday with Judge Scott and G. A. Gouin, and the party were staying at a cottage owned by the latter. They had retired to rest about eleven o'clock last night after a trip down the lake in Mr. Gouin's launch, and shortly afterwards Mr. Gouin heard Mr. Stephen groaning and breathing heavily, and when all was quiet Mr. Gouin went to see what was wrong and found that Mr. Stephen was dead. The body was brought to Edmonton by Dr. Fortin, the city coroner, made an examination and found that an inquest was unnecessary. Heart failure was the cause of death.

The deceased gentleman was about 54 years of age, and was a native of Chillingworth, Ontario, came to Canada about fourteen years ago. He was engaged for some time in hog ranching, but soon abandoned that for real estate, being at the time his death one of the oldest men in the business in Edmonton.

Fort Saskatchewan Fair

At the Fort Fair on Friday next, $7, $5, and $3 are offered for the best looking and smartest turnout (horse and man in uniform) open to non-commissioned officers and men of A. B. C. and E. squadrons, Canadian Mounted Rifles. Entries free. The race track at the Fair has been put into first class condition, and it is expected that fast times will be made in the different events. Several horses are now training in the town. Entries for the racing events should be made to G. H. McAvoy, Clerk of the Course. The Fort Saskatchewan Fire Brigade brass band will provide the music.

In the classes for shorthorn cattle and sheep several entries have been made and competition is likely to be keen. Special train service will be provided by the C.N.R. and a train will leave the Fort for Edmonton at 7 p.m. Price lists and entry forms can be obtained from the secretary, B. C. Evans.

Japanese Rice. A Japanese cook, famous for the light, sunny appearance of his rice-washes, the upturned grains through several waters until not a trace of milky whiteness is seen in the water. To two cups of the rice he allows one cup of water, and he cooks it for an hour without stirring. From time to time he shakes the kettle, tipping it from side to side. When the water is all absorbed he lets it stand for awhile on the back of the stove to steam and plump.

Dominion Public Accounts

(Telegrams)

The final uncorrected compilation of the revenue and expenditure of the Dominion of Canada for nine months is given in the latest number of the Canada Gazette. The nine months constitute the "short year," brought about by the change in the time for closing the accounts from June 30 to March 31.

The compilation shows that the revenue exceeded the expenditure and that there was a decrease of $5,371,117 in the net debt.

The expenditure or outlay was at the rate of $87,000,000 in twelve months. The items of the large revenue were as follows:

Customs	$39,760,172
Excise	11,800,413
Post Office	5,061,728
Public Works, including	6,830,585
Railways	4,002,428
Miscellaneous	7,079,699
Total	$75,960,928

The ordinary administrative expenditures $61,542,061, with an additional special expenditure of $14,254,025. Accordingly the total outlay is $75,796,086, leaving a balance or surplus of $2,225,842. During the current twelve months the government has had authority to spend over $100,000,000 altogether.

What Cares Ottawa

Nearly two months have passed since application was made to the Ottawa government by the Lumber Manufacturers of Edmonton for permits to cut logs on government berths along the Saskatchewan, in order that the mills might be able to resume sawing, so suddenly interrupted by the flood, which swept away over one hundred thousand logs, the result of the winter's work by the local lumber companies on their own timber berths. The red tape methods of the Federal departments are as usual in evidence, and no permission nor information as to what decision the Ottawa government has arrived at in this matter has been forthcoming. In consequence the millmen's hands are tied. The local sawmills have been idle for weeks, and when 200 or more men would be drawing weekly wages, they are seeking other work of a less profitable nature. The Federal authorities can have no excuse for this dilatory and failure to arrive at a favorable decision. The request was an urgent one and was supported by a strongly worded resolution from the Edmonton Board of Trade, and action on the part of the Department should have been immediate.

This is but one instance of many, which bring home to the people of Alberta what a limited measure of self-government they were granted when erected into a province of the Dominion. Without control of the timber and mineral resources of the Province, the people of Alberta in carrying on development work in such fields must look to Ottawa, two thousand miles away. Matters that from the standpoint of this province demand immediate attention, appear of little importance to the chief clerks of the departments of the Federal government, and are shelved until more urgent business from other parts of the Dominion has been dealt with. More and more as the development of the natural resources of Alberta is undertaken by her people, will the limitations of the Autonomy Act become apparent—a galling yoke on the neck, of a free people.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS STOCK.

(Springfield Republican). President Roosevelt is understood to be giving attentive ear to a new plan in the way of public control of railroads. This is to have the United States government acquire a small ownership of stock in the principal railroad systems of the country and then to force a representative of the government into the several boards of directors. Such a policy is to be under consideration by Democratic leaders affiliated with Bryan, and the president is urged to forestall them with a like administration programme.

If the Roosevelt administration is actually considering such a plan, then it is actually considering an embarkation upon the policy of public ownership of railroads. Nor would this be a surprising development—wholly apart from the fact that no body can longer be surprised at anything Mr. Roosevelt's administration may do or think of doing. Nothing has been made clearer in recent months than the policy of railroad regulation through commissions. Iowa has as radical and as energetic a commission probably as any northern state, yet the state legislature enacts a two-cent rate law over its head. The Illinois legislature has snubbed the railroad commission of that state in like manner. The Wisconsin legislature is now enacting a two-cent law against the protests of the commission of that state, which is not known as a sleepy body. The New York legislature expressed its want of faith in the commission system by passing a two-cent rate bill along with an act creating a reorganized commission as demanded by Gov. Hughes. As the governor was bound to have more confidence in his own commission than that, he vetoed the bill as in all consistency he should have done; but it will be an exceptional happening if the new New York commission carries out to any great extent the object of the vetoed bill.

Mr. Lemieux and a Trip West.

(Saskatoon Phoenix)

The Winnipeg Free Press is out with a page of information about the postal service in the West. That great journal's subscribers send in many complaints about delays in delivery, all of which is alike to the common experience of every newspaper in the land. We do not look for perfect service in a new and rapidly developing country, but still, with an effort and the needed expenditure, he made much superior to the service being given now.

The Free Press made the interesting announcement that Hon. Rodolph Lemieux is coming west this fall to look into the service and find out for himself just what are the facts in the case. This is just what we would expect the man who is in charge of a great department in a government whose business record is an honest and creditable one.

Edmonton, was examined before the Beef Commission in the capital city this morning. In the course of his evidence he practically corroborated Mr. Gainer's story, as to the profits to be made by the butchers. He was asked for figures in detail as to the various parts of the animals after they had been slaughtered and his figures practically agreed with Mr. Gainer's.

A little lad named Robinson, nephew of Constable Robinson, was accompanying his father up Walter's hill with a heavily loaded wagon this morning. He was about to put a stone behind the tire of the hind wheel to prevent the wagon running back, but missed placing it properly and the wagon backing ran over his head, severely maiming his fingers. He was brought into the city in a buggy and attended by a doctor.

Dr. J. C. Wainwright returned to the city on Sunday's train after attending the convention of the Western Undertakers' Association in Winnipeg from the 16th to the 20th inst. He reports a successful and profitable series of meetings. All the old officers were re-elected as follows:—President, John Thompson, Winnipeg; First Vice-President, John Simpson, Neepawa; Second Vice-President, J. B. McKillop, Portage la Prairie; Secretary-Treasurer, H. J.
Campbell, Brandon. Professor George of Waterloo, New York, gave a series of lectures and demonstrations.

It has been proposed to organize a Temple of Pythian Sisters for Edmonton and Strathcona, and a business and social meeting is to be held this evening in the Pythian Hall, McEwan's street, Edmonton, which all K.P.'s are asked to attend and particularly requested to take any of their lady relatives or friends who might be interested in the movement. It is not expected to form the temple at this meeting, but applications for membership may be taken.
Mrs. F. C. Brown, Deputy Supreme Chief of the Pythian Sisters, will be present to explain the principles of the order.

COLLAR AND CUFF SETS.

Fascinating Are the Many Styles of Cravats, Jabots and Rabats That Can Be Made by Fair Hands—They Require Careful Washing.

Collars with cuffs to match are fashionable, like a man's high two inch turnover collar, and may be made of plain linen or ruche with scalloped edges, plain or with small circles or conventional figures embroidered in each scallop. The scalloped or plain blue collars are the best for the beginner to fashion. Half a yard of linen, with mercerized linen Ross for embroidery, will make three sets of collars, with cuffs to match.

Dois, circles, fleur-de-lis, conventionalized daisies and shamrocks in dimi-

EMBROIDERY AND HAND TOOLS.
The site are favorite designs for beginners, and simple conventional vine designs sometimes run around the lower edge of the collar.

Narrow hemstitched rills are used to finish off the front plait, and the delt fingered girl can make these in sets of rills and hemstitch to run the entire distance down the front of the waist and a turnover collar with cuffs to match, finished with a hem or scallops and set under this the fine gathered or knife plaited rill. The latter, of course, is made from lawn or handkerchief linen. With these sets a silk Windsor tie or tiny silk cravat is worn.

But far more fascinating to the feminine needle at this moment are the many styles of lingerie ties, cravats, jabots and rabats. A rabat looks like a handkerchief, plain or edged with lace, laid in the plait, so that it is snug and narrow where it joins the collar and flares out as the plait unfolds toward its lower edge. It gives a flat, tailored effect. The jabot gives a cascade effect in lace alone or lace and lawn and is worn with dressy rather than tailored waists.

The smallest lingerie cravats or made ties measure no more than three and a half inches in length and less than two inches in breadth. They are made of fine linen, batiste or lawn, edged with a very narrow scalloped or pointed French val and laid in finest lace platings. They are drawn in a very tight knot in the center to give a buttery effect. They can be fastened on a bit of pasteboard covered with the lawn and attached to the collar with a bit of narrow elastic. Or a patent safety pin on a bar which comes for this purpose can be purchased and the cravat fastened to the collar by this means.

These made up ties require most skillful ironing when washed and, in fact,

CLOVER DESIGN.
Never look really smart after they are washed. Many women are embroi-dering narrow, short ties, slightly broader at the ends than in the center, and trying them in tight, nutty bows. These are less than a yard in length, from thirty to thirty-three inches, about two inches wide where they slip under the turnover collar and three inches or a few more at the ends, which may be made as cravats as one's ability as an embroiderer will permit.

Pine Salad.
Pine served as a salad is a society that is decidedly worth trying.
The pines after cooling are soaked in sherry and then candied with walnut or pecans, put on the fire, and let the leaves and dressed with a dressing having twice the amount of lemon juice that it has of oil and mustard, celery salt and pepper. It is a delicious salad.
